

Foreword

It should be the ambition of every graduating class in high school to have an Annual. The four years spent within these walls of learning should be looked back upon in years to come as being full of joy and honest hard-work and as having afforded us the greatest privilege of life: the building of friendships cemented permanently and unvaryingly.

To bring back these fond memories which are past and to afford many hours of entertainment should be the purpose of this year book.

If in years to come you can adjust your spectacles and spend an enjoyable hour or two with the "June Bug", watching your many friends herein go trooping by in silence, the members of the Annual Board will feel amply repaid for their efforts.

Here you will find the faces of many of your schoolmates, some of whom appear often, others less frequently; many have won distinction through their individual attainments in athletics, social activities or scholarship.

As members of the class we should appreciate the good fortune of having an Annual in spite of the usual "hubbub" that occurs each year concerning this project. Although the realization of its appearance seemed at times rather vague and uncertain, all obstacles were finally overcome and petty trifles smoothed out.

Being school folk with the rest of the class, the staff, with French, Spanish, algebra, physics and a few other graduation requisites to take their spare time, may have made mistakes and if a few have found their way within these covers we hope that our readers will be fairly considerate of them.

It is necessary here to make known our appreciation of the wonderful co-operation of our faculty advisers: Miss Maud Bruckshaw, for her helpful suggestions and untiring efforts in the editorial department; O. J. Peeling, for his splendid aid in making both ends meet in financing the book, and Miss Elizabeth Sudborough for checking over the senior names and activities.

The staff also wishes to thank all of those students who have contributed in various ways with advertisements or other assistance.

Lastly the editor wishes to express his appreciation and gratitude to those of the Annual Board who have laid aside all consideration of personal pleasure and have given generously of their time and energy to the production of this book.

WILLIAM KUNKEL, Editor.

To
Miss Theodora M. Blake

*In acknowledgment of the fact that, largely through her persistent endeavors of previous years,
and her whole-hearted participation in a student project, the publication of this year book was made possible,
we, the classes of 1924, affectionately dedicate our Annual.*

February Class History

'Twas in the year 1920,—when East Technical was climbing to football fame—and girls' sports first made their debut—that the class of February, '21, entered the portals of our beloved Tech.

Ah, ours was the class that was to make the school famous. So thought we innocent but important freshmen,—until the upper classmen crushed our pride with the cognomen—"flat."

Like all "freshies", our trials and tribulations consisted chiefly of mad dashes about the building, in a vain endeavor to find ourselves,—and fictitious rooms.

But at last the year dragged by—and behold! 1921 saw us emerge from our chrysalis as full-fledged sophomores.

Sophomore! What a delightful word it was—that is, until our English teacher, Miss Morris, informed us it was taken from the Greek, meaning "wise fool."

Not only did military training now give our boys a chance to shine forth, as potential protectors of their country, but the natty uniforms distinguished them from the intolerable "flats."

Herbert D. Bixby, our former principal, left East Technical that year to take the position of assistant superintendent of Cleveland Public Schools. Principal H. A. Bathrick then assumed the responsibility of piloting us through all our troubles.

The next step on our sojourn through East Technical was our advancement to the rank of junior. We then awakened to the fact that we were upperclassmen. It was a novel and thrilling sensation when we became aware of our real importance and place in school affairs.

During our junior year, the Concentration Study Hall was first organized. The students took full charge of one of the study rooms, no teachers whatever being present.

In the spring of 1922, we learned that the "June Bug" was not an insect, but our annual. The old custom of publishing one each year had been revived, and instilled in the Junior class the desire to have one of our own when the time came.

A great Carnival was given in March, that spring. A variety of costumes, masks and noise characterized the festival, at which the juniors were well represented. The celebration was given by the Student Council in honor of Coach Wadaman. The thought of the coming departure of this man who had made Tech famous from "coast to coast" gave a touch of sadness to the otherwise hilarious evening.

At last the pinnacle of our school career was reached. We were seniors! At once we plunged into the greatest whirl of work and fun that we had ever known.

Our last year was one constant round of electing class officers, ordering animals, choosing our rings, planning all sorts of social events—and letting the rest of the school know that we were high and mighty seniors.

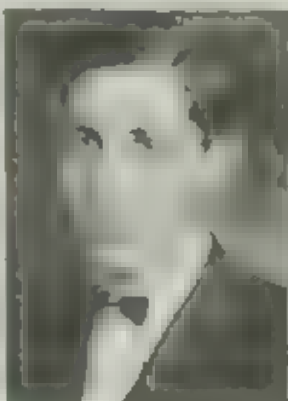

And then came Commencement, January 31, 1924—the final, sad farewell to our East Technical school days.

Class Farewell Song

TUNE—Indiana Moon

February Class, you'll soon be leaving.
We have gathered here to say goodbye.
Here we're happy but we'll soon be grieving;
This is what the 12 B's sigh:

CHORUS

February Class, we'll miss you,
Fellow Techites, loyal and true,
A record fine and clear you've shown in your year,
We'll try hard as well to fill your place.
Soon you'll in the world your mark be making,
Where we know you're needed more,
With Tech's guiding light,
You're bound to do the right.
Farewell, Class of '21.

Old associations, clubs, and friendships,
Favorite teachers, you must leave behind.
Although East Tech school days all are over,
A welcome you'll ever find.

Words by Dorothy Hamilton.

The Evolution of the June Class, 1924

The evolution of a graduate is a fascinating subject which we have been studying for four years. At last we will attempt to make an outline of this field to help others who long to become graduates some day. The history of the senior class can be divided into four periods.

Prehistoric Period: In these long ago years even we (who are now the great class of June '24) were uncivilized. Indeed we realized that we had many characteristics of the cave man. Hunger was our greatest emotion. Many of our number, such as Florence Betterton and Fred Schrade, later became famous track stars because of their training in sprinting for lunch. The sports of those days were barbaric. With exultant joy we cheered as our football squad rose to first place in the Senate, downed Scott High, and fought valiantly at Everett, Washington. For less bloodthirsty amusement in that Stone Age, we attended Mixers, where we struggled wildly for popcorn balls and doughnuts and pretended to get a little "touched" on apple cider.

Ancient History: During this time we became Sophomores and changed radically. That learning and the arts had reached their highest development, was shown by our large attendance at the first honor banquet and our youthful effusions filled the Budwig Bards column. Many members of our class developed strange symptoms. They carried pencils and pads constantly, and were called "reporters." Great was their rejoicing when the "Weekly Scarab" was recognized as the best high school paper in Ohio.

Medieval Age: In this period we discovered chivalry and courtesy. We students became known as "those young gallants" who attended court in the center hall. Shining patent leather hair, flapping galoshes, and gayety were the chief characteristics of this period.

Many of our members suffered severely when they were initiated into clubs. Mice and crows, dambells or dog babies strolled about. Bold pirates appeared wearing blue bandanas and dragging little red wagons. The shuddering sophomore listened in fright to the terrible tales told by the Juniors. They whispered of electric shocks, raw oysters, and sworn oaths.

Modern Era: At last this race blossomed into its full power and glory. It produced great politicians—Andy Thailing, class president, and Walter Creasap, Student Council president. Our most noted actor was John Edwards, hero of "Penrod", "Seventeen", and "Clarence". Dorothy Hamilton rose to fame as a feature writer. She haunted us with pencil and pad saying, "And what is your favorite tooth paste?" Wayne Keeler won distinction as Deer Mejer and Arthur Pile, as the school's best orator.

Our farewell party to the February graduates showed our natural consideration for others, for we allowed the weeping "F. G.'s" to win the Kiddie-car polo match. As we banqueted on our Senior Day, everyone agreed that the senior, especially the East Technical variety, is the noblest production of this world.

The Weekly Scarab

"Scare-ah! Scare-ah here!" However, to the hustling scribes of the "Best High School Newspaper in Ohio," Monday and Friday are the "big days."

Beginning at 1:45 on these days, the whole (?) force of thirty-two reporters straggles into the Scarab Office, the "cubs" first, still a little timid as to their dreaded "interview" assignments. After the flock has gone out again, silence reigns. Occasionally "Jimmy" Vaughan, renowned editor of the Primrose Path, "cracks wise."

Action really starts when the "three and more termers" begin to drift in. Clarence Mollison, editor-in-chief, rushes in to help G. H. Taylor, faculty adviser, mutilate copy.

Then comes Dorothy Hamilton, assistant editor, who begins a frantic search for feature writers; and Louis Silber, also assistant editor, who is besieged with head-lines of every description.

A heated argument on athletics starts as soon as Robert Wilson and Erwin Gloor step into the room.

But it takes Thelma DeGarmo, "Up and Downstairs" editor, and George Male to produce the "cubs" for the staff.

Marie Laine Kanzett, who edits the "What the Students Want to Know" column, busily searches all available encyclopedias.

By 6:00 o'clock only a few of the "old-timers" are left, consuming hamburgs and finishing copy.

Finally all is "hooked", the door clicks and by 7:15 p. m. the last weary scribe has plodded homeward, to a cold meal and a few peaceful hours of home-work.

Student Council

Place: Student Council Office, Room 176.

Time: Just before the 3:15 bell

Walter Crensap, Student Council President, bends over his desk. He has all the appearance of a business man except the cigar.

3:15: The bell rings and the deluge descends!

"Can our home room have a party?"

"Has anyone found my compact and a dollar bill?"

"Where's the stuff from my locker?"

The Council Office is a tiny room. In spite of the small dimensions of the office, a unit meeting is held at the same time that the secretary types reports, a Scarab reporter interviews Miss Parmenter, and the Lost and Found Department returns property.

As soon as the unit adjourns, a meeting of the Executive Council assembles. This is a very august and dignified body. The members stand around the table singing, "Oh, we are the eggs of the eggsecutive council."

The President pounds on the table with a real mahogany gavel, sometimes. The rest of the time he uses his beloved Spanish book or a bottle of ink.

"Will the meeting please come to order?" is pronounced in a deep bass voice that would strike awe into the soul of any flat.

"Stiefy," begs the president, "please go out and round up the rest of the quorum."

The treasurer soon returns driving "Girlic," "Peg" and Johnny Edwards before him. They are arguing over the relative merits of Eskimo and ice-cream and ice-cream and whether roller-skating hockey would be better than kiddie-kar polo.

Systematically the group takes up problem after problem, discusses it, decides a remedy, votes or refers it to one of the standing committees.

The high spots in the year's work include:

- (1.) The ratifying by referendum vote of a permanent constitution, and its publication with the bi-annual report.
- (2.) Enlarging and perfecting the Book Shop service.
- (3.) Perfecting the details of the regular committees.
- (4.) Enlarging the service of the Social Committee to reach the needs of the whole school.
- (5.) Planning and carrying through a bigger and better Festival of Fun

DRAMATIC CLUB

PLAY CAST

JUNE BUG

The Dramatic Club

As an outlet for dramatic temperament this club was formed. We who need the relief of ranting and raving across the boards have banded together to make our "rants" and "raves" more effective.

We aim to attend at least one good production on the legitimate stage a month. At our meetings we are addressed by people whose work on the stage makes their talks interesting and valuable to us. Among those who have spoken here was Miss Constance Kenyon, affiliated with what was then called the Thimble Theater.

We give one play each year in co-operation with Miss May McKittrick, who, as manager, rules us with an iron hand, and Miss Florence De Ryke, dramatic coach, who carries out all the traditions of the director who crushes the poor heroine in ruthless tyranny.

For the past three years Tarkington plays have been staged. Clarence, this year, was the climax of them all, if we judge by the record breaking crowds which attended.

Clarence, played by John Edwards, was the quiet, serious-minded, returned soldier trying to get a job as a specialist on the Coleoptera. No one could have looked sicker than he when he wavered on to the stage suffering from a wound in his liver. Cora, nee Ethel Dahlen, was the prettiest, most graceful, bewitching, tantalizing whirl-wind ever seen on an East Technical stage. Joe Govan as Bobby Wheeler was so disturbed as to whether it were better, "to carry a stick over your arm with shammy gloves or do you think you ought to kind of lean on it?" Violet Pinney played by Helen Hawkins was a vivid contrast to the lively Cora. Her quiet sincerity as she offered Clarence half her check made the audience feel that they should have done something queer. Melva Krupitzer gave a realistic interpretation of a petulant young society matron. Mr. Wheeler, Clarence's husband, played by Alfred Gaskill aroused much sympathy.

A blissful, sad smile, a mop of red hair, and a brogue turned Lura Lambert into Della, the Irish housemaid.

William Wagner as Mr. Stem, the villain, made himself thoroughly disliked with his nervous little moustache, and his clasping and unclasping hands.

Elmer Waxman's portly bulk fitted the part of Dinwiddie, the butler.

The difficult situation was solved when Clarence's identity was finally established, Miss Pinney found out whom she was going to marry, Mrs. Wheeler discovered that her handy-man was in "Who's Who", and Cora reconciled herself to be content with only the memory of Clarence.

ORCHESTRA

The Musical Union

The Musical Union, composed of the Band, Orchestra and the two Glee Clubs, has given several interesting programs this year.

The Orchestra played in several Auditoriums, the afternoon and the evening concerts, at the play "Clarence" and the opera "Martha", and at both Class Nights and Commencement.

The big program of the Fall semester was given January 24. All of the vocal numbers were original American Indian music which American musicians had transcribed for publishing. The Indian costumes and the red lights made the scene more realistic. The Voice Culture Students sang the solos which showed the poetic spirit of the Red Man. The same program with additional numbers by the orchestra was repeated March 5 in the evening.

The students of Voice Culture have appeared in public at the Hotel Cleveland, the Old Stone Church and several other places. It is well to mention here, that a chorus of untrained young voices must be much larger than one of mature voices, for the volume is much less, as the resonance is undeveloped; a small chorus would increase the danger of voices being strained in so ambitious a production as "Martha."

"Martha" was a big success and every one was satisfied; the Musical Union, because it had had the opportunity to show what it could do with a great piece of work, and the student body because it had a chance to see grand opera at a reasonable price.

Debating

East Technical is once more on the "debating map!"

This is the result of a most successful season enjoyed by both the affirmative and negative teams. Much credit is also due Coach Harold A. Van Kirk, who worked constantly with the teams in preparation for the debates.

A new system was inaugurated during the past year, upon the suggestion of Mr. Van Kirk. A debating season, corresponding to the basketball season, opened in January and lasted throughout March. Only one question was debated during this time.

The Order of the Scarab

This club was organized one year ago, for the purpose of creating and promoting interest in forensic activities. Just how well it succeeded, can be determined from the crowds which attended the debates. East Technical rooters numbered from 250 to 800 upon each occasion.

It was largely due to the efforts of this organization that an extensive debating schedule was arranged and teams were sent to Youngstown and Buffalo.

The Order of the Scarab sponsors an oratorical contest each year, which is held in the school auditorium. A silver loving cup is awarded to the winner. This trophy was won by Miss Ruth Larson, last spring. An extempore speaking tilt is also held. The winner of this event represents East Technical in the extempore contest held at Western Reserve. Last spring this honor was accorded to Raymond Koepke.

At the end of the debating season a banquet is held to which the alumni members are invited. It is at this time that new members are initiated.

Ushers' Club

In the past, ushering at the various entertainments given by the school was done by members of the different clubs, or voluntarily by a group of boys under the direction of Miss Anne Sinnen, former teacher of English. There had, however, been no organization, until at the close of the fall term of 1925, through the efforts of Charles Irwin, a group of boys formed a club. Miss Helen Kunz, teacher of English, was appointed faculty adviser.

The purpose of the club is primarily to usher at East Technical entertainments such as concerts, plays and debates. The club forms a means of getting the members better acquainted. On the second Thursday of each month a business meeting is held.

Improvement in the conduct and courtesy of ushers forms the topic of discussion at these meetings.

Seymour's Daubers

N. E. Seymour, teacher of mechanical drawing, having artistic ability and a practised eye, grew tired of looking at the earnest but futile attempts of the boys in his drawing classes. He decided to give the best ones a chance to show their "stuff" and so the next semester a call was sent out for would-be "paint slingers." Getting sufficient response, Mr. Seymour then organized a class and proceeded to expand their ability in the art of applying thoughts through the medium of color and the brush.

In this group some were ambitious, and the result was—"Seymour's Daubers," another entry to the already long list of organizations. To be a member of this club, one must do exceptional work in the class.

Countless posters for plays, athletics, and campaigns have been made by the club during the past two years, and also for outsiders.

Good sign painters are much in demand and Mr. Seymour has had the satisfaction of seeing many of his pupils obtain excellent positions in this line of work.

East Tech Printers

The East Tech Printers' Club, of which C. S. Rinehart is faculty adviser, was organized in the fall of 1922. Members of the specialization classes at printing and of the old Ben Franklin Club reorganized that society, which had been in existence since 1912.

The main purpose of the club is to promote better printing among the students in the printshop, through social meetings and lectures. Men who have done or are doing notable work in printing, are occasionally invited to speak. Some of the subjects discussed are: printers' colors, paper, inks, advertising and lithography. These talks develop appreciation of well balanced and artistic printing.

The school calendar is put out as a club project, the proceeds of which pay for the annual banquet in June.

One field trip a semester is taken to various newspaper offices and electro-plate companies in the city.

The membership of the club is now about thirty. Any student who has passed a term of printing is eligible for application.

Movie Operators

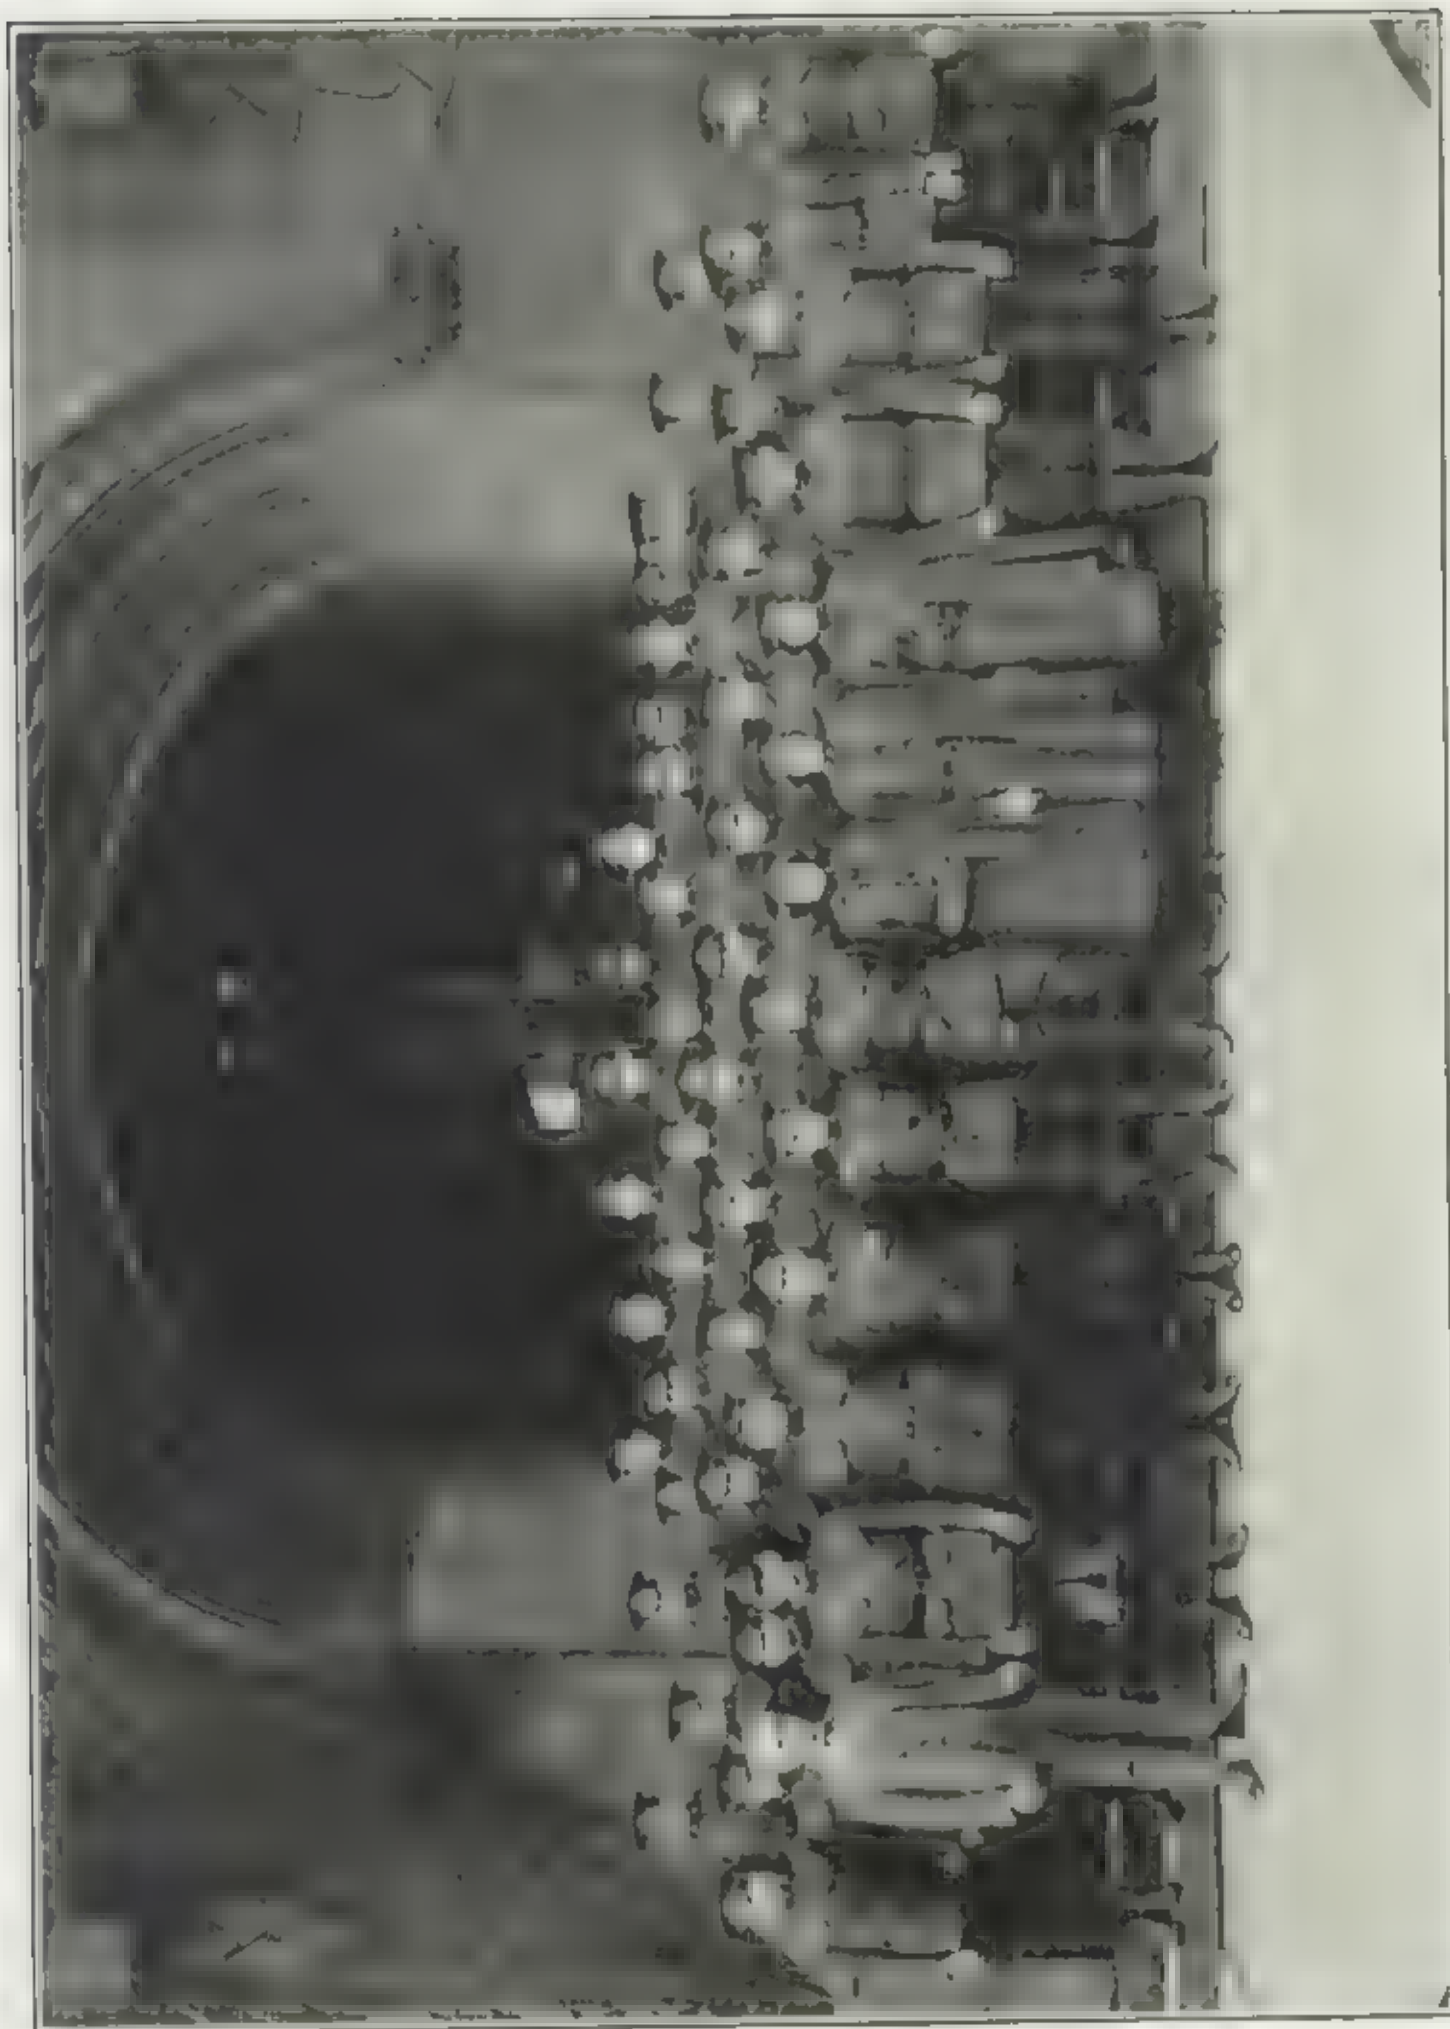

Optical projection is one of the new courses offered at East Technical High School. Two years ago, Seth H. Hayes, head of the chemistry department, organized the class in optical projection.

The boys who have completed this course are sent to junior high schools to operate movie machines. They are also eligible to take out a state license which permits them to operate a movie machine anywhere in Ohio.

The movie operators co-operated with the technical department in "putting over" the vocational "auds" successfully by giving them efficient lighting.

A room in the south wing of the building was turned over to the projectionists. They have installed several new machines. This presented an opportunity for replacing a great deal of the theoretical work with technical practice. Thus the course was changed from the science department to the technical group.

Members specializing in optical projection are: Post Graduate, Charles Bonifacio; 12A, Elmer Horne, Robert Larkin; 12B, Russel Down, Elliott Hoff, Edward Kline; 11A, William Deeks, Walter Dewald, Charles Ernst, Ralph Favor, Julius Halkowitz, Joe Harmony, Julius Hevitan, Elwood Schmink; 11B, Fred Bruggeman.

The Military Training Department has improved greatly since its installation at East Technical and shows even greater promise for the future. In the field meet held May 17, 1923, at Gordon Park, the East Technical Regiment won several honors.

Cups were awarded for the following: Manual of Arms Squad Competition, first place; Equipment Race, first place; Company Competitive Drill, second place; Tent Pitching Contest, second place; Individual Soldier Competition, third place.

In September, 1923, a beautiful silver loving cup was presented by Major Burt W. Phillips and Cadet Lieutenant-Colonel Inman Cooke, to be competed for each semester by every company in the regiment.

Company A, Captain Joseph Toth commanding, was the first to receive this award.

In February, Colonel Fred Banko was graduated and Lieutenant-Colonel Lloyd Douglass was promoted to be Colonel. Helen White and Gladys Kadlecck were appointed sponsors in place of Lola Prentice and Miriam Ingalls, who were graduated in June, 1923. Mildred Schreppel and Ruth Richter were also appointed sponsors in February when Marguerite Wachob and Florence Palmer were graduated.

Four members of the East Technical R. O. T. C. Rifle Team made the National Rifle Competition. They were Ralph Thomlinson, Walter Creasap, Roy Rybak and Fred Streisel.

Instructors in Military Training are: Major Burt W. Phillips, U. S. A. Retired, Sergeants Arthur Amy, U. S. A., Charles Napier, U. S. A.

Cadet officers for the East Technical regiment for the spring term were:

Scarabaeae Honor Society

The boys' honor club—the Scarabaeae—has two functions. One is promotion of higher scholarship; the other, the advancement of good comradeship.

At the completion of each semester that graduating member of the club who has been judged as having been of the greatest service to the school is honored by having his name engraved on the Scarabaeae cup. The trophy was presented to the club by the alumni three years ago.

A twenty-five dollar prize, likewise donated by the alumni of the club, is given to that member of the graduating class, boy or girl, who has been selected in the same manner as the recipient of the former honor.

During this year a grade card system has been inaugurated. If a member gets one "D" he must make it up in two weeks or be suspended. If the "D" is not made up in four weeks, the member is dropped from the club. A member with two "D's" is suspended immediately and is given four weeks to make his work up or be expelled.

Broadway Hi-Y

In a rather old but warm-hearted building, on Broadway, near Harvard Avenue, the East Technical "Hi-Y" boys hold their weekly meetings. The building is the Broadway Y. M. C. A., a branch of the great organization known as the Young Men's Christian Association.

It is the purpose of this club to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character. Their guide is: Clean Speech, Clean Thoughts and Clean Sports

The events begin at six-thirty every Tuesday evening when supper is served after which a speaker generally talks to the boys on different phases of "Hi-Y" standards.

It was through a talk on the effects of smoking, by F. N. Burroughs, teacher of mathematics at East Technical, that the club decided to start a campaign against this habit, around the school premises

Signs, with the opinions of widely known baseball men and other leaders in the country who disapprove of smoking, were placed in the main corridor, as reminders to those students who had contracted this detrimental habit.

When supper is over, a meeting is held with East, Glenville, Longwood, Cleveland Heights, Central and East Technical represented. The business of the evening completed, the separate clubs go to their respective rooms and hold their meetings.

The East Technical club has several standing committees: Smoking, School Relations, Wistgoma, Broadway "Hi-Y", Program and "In Dutch." These committees and their work form the success of the club.

The Friendship Club was invited to a "Hi-Y" meeting last semester. A discussion was held on "The Ideal Boy or Girl." Several interesting points were brought out.

During the last term the combined clubs held "Father and Son" and "Mother and Son" banquets and a dinner dance. Faculty night was another big feature. H. A. Bathrick, Dean Lawrence, W. E. The Aggies "A Call to the Wilderness"

This perhaps expressed the general feeling in the "ag" classes at the beginning of the spring semester. After a period of hibernation which lasted two years, the Aggies once more made their appearance at East Technical. During the month of February, the members of the agriculture classes, with F. S. Kern as faculty adviser, reorganized.

Burton Klein, former president of the club, talked on the past policies of the "Aggies." It was decided to follow the program established by the former club. They will continue the custom of taking field trips to the various large wholesale and retail florists, in and around Cleveland, and to the river valleys of North Eastern Ohio. These trips are taken for two reasons: first, to study horticulture as it is applied commercially; and second, to provide a good time for members.

Freeman Wreckers

"A rose by any other name would smell as sweet." Thus philosophized William Shakespeare. But the East Technical Freeman Wreckers Club disagree. Freeman Wreckers to them means only hard work.

Eight years ago the electrical construction room was located at the south end of the third floor. As the course became more popular and classes increased, more space was required. It was then decided to have the students move the "lab" to the second floor, where it is now located.

One of the observers, commenting on the work later, said, "Only the Freeman Wreckers could have done the work so well in that length of time." The name seemed so appropriate that it has remained the name of the club consisting of students specializing in electrical construction.

The club was instituted with the aim of bringing to light the more intricate problems in the course of the application of electricity in our modern time. This is accomplished by means of field trips and speeches given by men who are specialists in their particular line of work.

The Art Study Club is pleased to consider this year one of the most successful since its formation nine years ago.

The efforts of the club have always been directed toward cultivating an appreciation of the beautiful things which the members find about them, and toward developing a spirit of service toward the school.

Keeping this ideal foremost, the club chose "Interior Decorating" as the subject for study in the fall term and "Art in Dress and Manners" as the subject for the spring term.

But the work we have accomplished has been enlivened by a social side. Great and mysterious were the preparations for the Initiation Party. The "exquisite torture" of that initiation will be long remembered by the "victims". For the girl who plans to become a gymnasium teacher and for the one who is fully awake to the joys of the gymnasium, East Technical has an ideal club, the Girl Gym Captains.

Short business meetings are held every week in which different phases of the work are discussed. These meetings are followed by an hour and a half spent in learning exercises to teach to the classes and, what is far more enjoyable, taking advanced work in tactics, dancing, basketball, and the use of apparatus, wands, and Indian clubs.

Not all the time, however, is spent in working in the gymnasium. Splash parties are held at the Y, tennis courts are invaded, and the Chagrin River receives pitiful wrinkles from the canoe loads of girls that float upon its bosom. Boy Gym Captains

The Boy Gym Captains' Club has furnished entertainment for various school functions. Their stunts in the gymnasium exhibition held at the Public Auditorium, May 8, 1923, featured the program.

The annual Thanksgiving Dance in the fall and the Shirtwaist Party in the spring have become very popular affairs for all the students.

To create and maintain a friendly spirit between the Girl and Boy Gym Captains, a joint lesson is arranged each year, followed by a dance.

Each term every member is graded according to his ability in physical training, and required to take a test in all-round gymnasium work. Letters are given to those who have successfully taken the first three tests, and a certificate to those who pass the fourth year test. These boys are then qualified to conduct a complete lesson in any gymnasium, and are given an opportunity to assist G. I. Kern, Physical Director, in the regular work.

The awards are presented to the winners, at an annual banquet, held in June.

Freshman: "What is home room period for?"

Upper classman: "Aw—that's only to find out if you're skipping, that's all."

As a result of this and many similar remarks heard by members of Home Room 156, they determined to make "Home Room" have a real meaning.

A club was organized in September 1921 and called the Premiers, to which only the members of the home room were eligible for membership. Not only have they participated in sports, such as indoor baseball and basketball, but they have tried to raise their scholarship standard through co-operation in the home room. The boys who are good students in one subject help those who are poor in the same course.

At home room period the secretary takes the attendance and the president takes care of the business. At the regular meetings punishment is dealt out to those who have "cut" classes or in other ways broken the rules of the school.

The Premiers also aid the newer students to acquire that advantageous "something" called TECH SPIRIT. The club has done this through giving the teams full support at the games. Last fall they attended the Akron South game in a body, as they attended the Toledo-Scott battle the year before.

A. A. L. O.

The A. A. L. O. Club was formed for the purpose of aiding children of wounded French soldiers. Clothes were made and sent to the French Relief Association.

At the close of the war, the club wished to continue their services; so they turned to relief work at home. Each year a family suggested by the Associated Centuries has been adopted. This year they have taken care of a mother and five children, the oldest of whom is twelve years old. The club members found them in need of the bare necessities of life. They were immediately provided with food and clothing.

At the meetings, programs are given. "The Young Woman Citizen", written by Mary Austin, was studied. Miss Clara Elmer, teacher of English, spoke on "Why We Should Speak Good English." "The Young Woman Citizen" was the title of a talk given by Miss Ethel Parmenter, director of social activities. "Why the Young Woman Should Know History" was the topic of Miss Grace Davis, history teacher. Miss Lucy Ward, teacher of art, talked about "The Cultural Value of Art."

Alchemia Club

The Alchemia is the reorganized Chemistry Club. The purpose of this club is to promote an interest in technical chemistry outside of the school as well as within it.

There are two groups of "specializers," known respectively, as the "Sulphides" and the "Bromides." One period a week in each class is given over to the meeting. Combined meetings are held once a week after school hours. This system arouses a form of "competitive pep" that is hard to beat.

Many of the 12A specializers are working on various projects of special importance. Some of these students have succeeded in their research work in perfecting such useful things as "Stains-Vanish," a powerful, yet harmless stain remover, and "Ink-Vanish," a remover of writing from paper.

At present one of the students is trying to perfect a continuous electrolytic process for the manufacture of white lead, while others are working on an electric carbon combustion furnace, such as is used in the industries. Still others have turned to organic chemistry and have succeeded in producing various complicated compounds. One of these amateur chemists is attempting to produce a real hair tonic.

The Chem Council was organized by Victoria Asadorian four semesters ago. She was the first president with Henry Van Dusen and Ralph Becker succeeding her. They served one and two terms respectively.

In this Council each chemistry class is represented and any boy or girl interested in chemistry is invited to attend the meetings held the first and third Mondays of each month.

The first undertaking of the Council was the organization of a chemistry study club where papers were read and the subject discussed. It could then help freshmen and sophomore students.

Another project was the starting of the East Tech Chemist by the Alumni who had taken trade chemistry. The paper was not a great success and a year later the Council took the paper over and it has been increasing steadily in size, quality and sales. As far as the Club knows, it is the only departmental paper published by High School students in the United States.

Pepigram Club

The Pepigram Club was organized in 1920, under the supervision of F. H. Ross, teacher of cabinet making, who is the faculty adviser. The club at that time restricted its membership to boys. The primary object of the club was to originate or find snappy, short sayings with a "punch" in them. These sayings were then displayed in the front corner. Members of the club joined an indoor baseball team which in the season of 1923, won the silver loving cup, given in the school league. That same year under the leadership of James P. Britan, the club was represented in the "Festival of Fun" by "King Tut", admittedly one of the best attractions. One issue of the "Pep Injector" was printed in the school shop and distributed that evening. About 2000 copies were given away. James Stross succeeded James P. Britan as president, September, 1923. The club was reorganized to admit girls; this step naturally emphasized the social phase. A very successful dance was held in January, 1924. The Corinthians

There had long been a feeling among students who specialized in architecture at East Technical that a club to promote the study of this subject and produce a more friendly feeling among members of the class was needed. For this purpose the Corinthian Club was formed February 27, 1921

Programs have been planned to make the meetings interesting. It is the purpose of the club to have architects speak to them from time to time

The group will also study different types of architecture by means of pictures and lantern slides which have been collected by R. W. Hill, teacher of architectural drawing

The membership of the Corinthians is limited to twenty-five students who are specializing in this subject

The real quality of the club has not been shown yet because of the short time that the club has existed. In the future its members hope to take part in the social and athletic activities of the school

Any member who does not hold his work up to standard is temporarily suspended from the club. If such a member improves his work, he may be taken back.

The club was formed for the purpose of the establishment of better standards of art in East Technical, better co-operation among art students, and the creation of a more friendly feeling in the art classes.

The Athletic Association

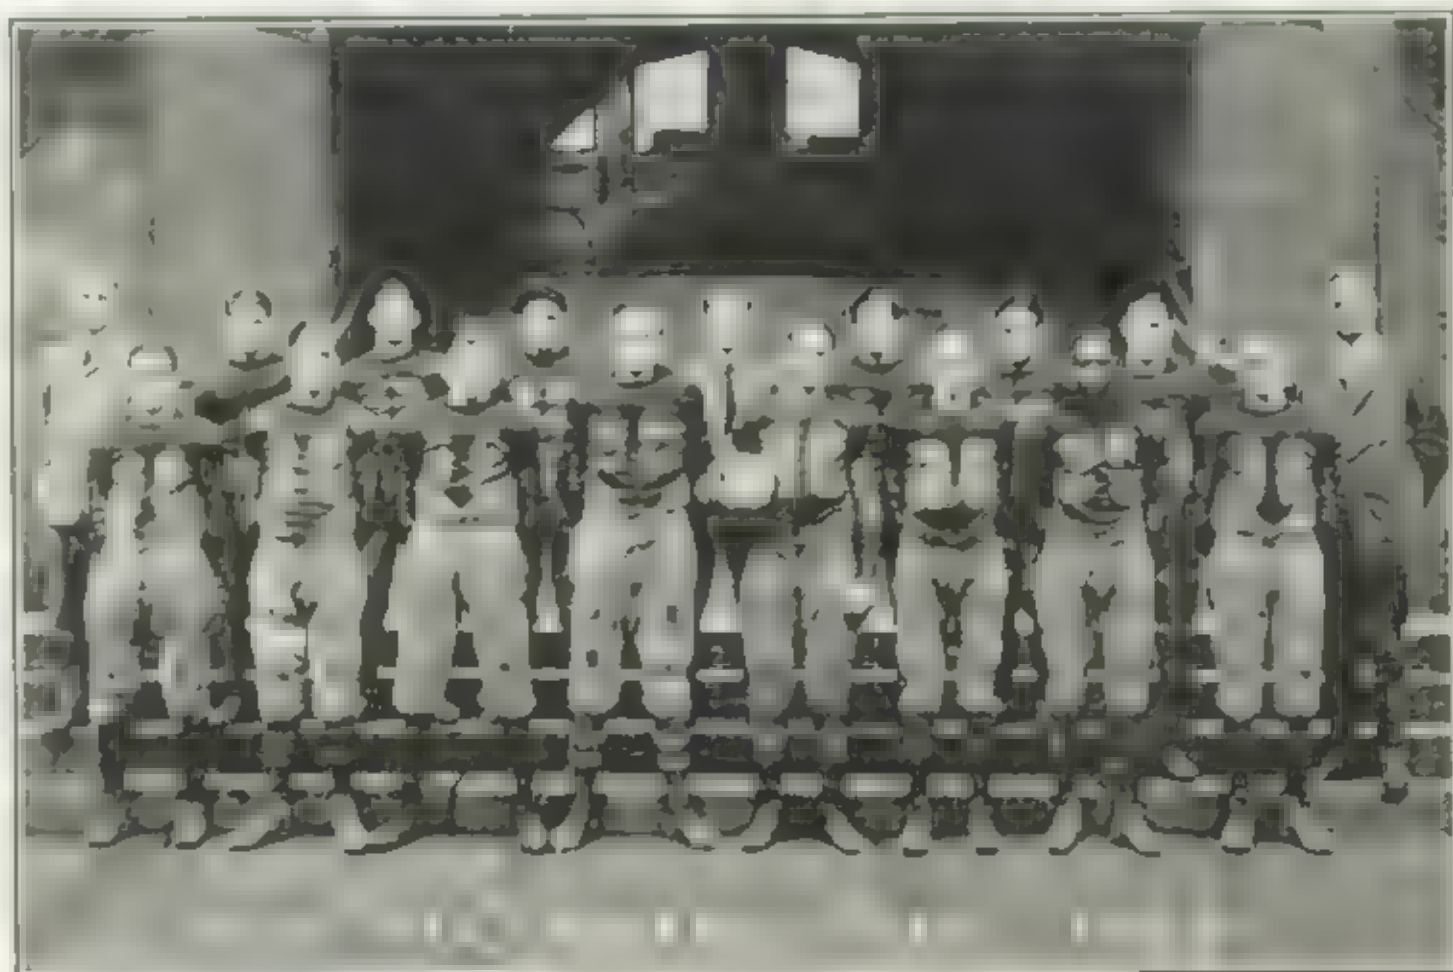

The East Tech Athletic Association is made up of three students and two members of the faculty, namely: Chairman Bob Wilson, Chuck Taylor, Ed Gall, J. D. Littlefield, teacher of machine-shop, and G. B. Frost, director of athletics. The faculty members are always the same but new student members are elected each year.

A new method of choosing the student representatives was inaugurated last semester. Home room teachers were asked to recommend those whom they thought would capably fill the positions. The names submitted were voted upon by the entire student body. The three receiving a majority of votes came into office.

The duty of the A. A. is mainly to decide who will and who will not receive letters and other awards. In deciding this, the coach's recommendations go a long way. Other things that count are a fellow's attending practice and keeping eligible at all times. The number of games in which a player participates or the number of meets in which he takes part has very little influence on whether or not he receives an award.

The entire committee votes on those to receive letters or pins or whatever it may be and the majority rules.

Football History

After remaining in the background on the gridiron for a year or so, the East Tech grid array again stepped to the front, but not in an inspiring manner. At the end of the football season, the local aggregation found itself sharing the senate championship with its sister school across the Cuyahoga. First place would have been East Tech's berth alone but for a rise and fall in aggressiveness which never before blighted a Carpenter eleven.

In the opening game of the season, over-confidence proved to be a bugbear for the locals, and their first mix-up was lost to Akron South, 26 to 0, at Akron. Tech put up a defense that made Brown and Gold fans look with despair upon the rest of the season.

In the initial senate game, the locals massacred Central, 33 to 6. The overwhelming victory was decidedly a surprise since the eight-term rule had just finished wrecking the Carpenter eleven, barring Lehet, Larick, Lopresti and Henninger from further participation in school games.

Harry Stryker was the big star in the following senate contest with West Tech. In the last minute of play, "Louie's" spectacular 49-yard place-kick changed a knotted 6 to 6 score to 9 to 6 in favor of the local Boilermakers.

On the succeeding pay day Captain Ba Momberger wrested a 10 to 0 victory from Tech on the foreign field. Shaw had the most powerful scholastic eleven in the vicinity, going through the entire season without a defeat.

However, after the pigskin season had been over for two or three months, a Shaw halfback, Don Mixer, was found to be over the age limit and all state games had to be forfeited.

The Artisans continued on the upgrade when, the next week, Lincoln was conquered 13 to 0. It was one of the cleanest games of the entire year.

Then the local aggregation reached its highest point of development and aggressiveness when the powerful Glenville squad was held to a 7 to 0 score at the Shaw bailiwick. The game was later forfeited by the Tar-Blood crew owing to the ineligibility of four Glenville huskies.

The locals started on the downward grade when Toledo Scott was met at Dunn Field the following week. The Tech back field was, in despite a superior quartet behind the line to lose. Although the Scarab crew held the carpents to a negative deadlock in the first half, the second stanza brought about a 20 to 0 score in favor of the foreigners.

East Tech continued on the toboggan slide when Lakewood bumped the Brown and Gold, 19 to 0. The suburbanites merely proved themselves better natatores, winning on a field of mud that might have delighted a hippopotamus.

Notwithstanding numerous set-backs, Tech was leading the senate race with only East High standing between it and the championship. The locals led the half, 14 to 0, but the Easterners came back in the second canter and in a series of surprises boosted their score to 18 and held the Carpenters scoreless.

He'll be back with us again,
For another year yet

CHARLES HARTMAN

He's terribly forward but
He's both bashful and quite shy;
As a real he-halfback,
Chuck Hartman is the guy.

LOVON HARVANIEN

An all-senate quarterback
Tells us, be it known;
His first name is not "Harvey"
For he was christened Lovon.

CHALMERS RICHARDSON

His first name is surely
An unlucky misfit,
For "Chump" don't apply
To an end with his grit.

HARRY STRYKER

He's an all-scholastic back,
Which to him don't mean a jot;
With his left foot or his right arm,
"Louis" is always Johnny on the spot.

BURT DREYER

He'll grin on forever;
It's just a Tech center's style;
He's thinking of the future,
When he'll be on top of the pile.

FRANK KRASINSKI

"Farmer", as a fullback
Surely took the cake;
He's not the eating kind, however,
He really wields a rake.

CYRIL SURINA

An all-senate choice
For the wing on the line;
Fans will meet "Cy" again
In a very short time.

"Pappie" was a bird,
But for all his popularity
He's very little seen or heard.

ROY HUNTER

And good in his way
This East Tech boy promises
To be a star some day.

RED DENNINGTON

"Red Top" does describe him
But he's not a taxi-driver;
For the end berth on the team
There was ne'er a better striver.

ROY LAPELICE

"Firpo" is his surname
And it surely fits him fine;
He's a very dangerous Wop
When he's guarding on the line.

WARREN LOUD

At center, Loud "was there",
He could have done a little better;
He stuck it out all season, though,
And then received his letter.

WADE BOSLEY

For his first year at football
"Bos" played at guard mighty fine,
But no matter what the sport was
He was "there" all the time.

And when put to the test
As an open field runner,
Joe was one of the best.

Basketball History

Although not winding up the year with a championship in its possession, the Brown and Gold five had a far more successful season than the football team. The final statistics showed the Carpenter quintet to be shoved out of a first place in the senate by a bare three points. The only defeats suffered by the Artisan cage array in the senate schedule were from Glenville, which won by one point, and by West Tech, which copped by two markers.

In the initial mix-up on the Carpenter sked Central was dished out a 21 to 20 defeat but not until after a hard fight when it began to look as if the locals might not begin the season as well as sport writers were predicting.

Glenville, East Tech's traditional foe, (why it is we do not know, but it's a fact) nosed out the local hoopsters, 14 to 13, considerably dashing their hopes for high honors in the senate race. This game was one of the most thrilling set-tos of the year. Up until the last half-minute of play the Boilermakers were ahead by one digit, the score standing 13 to 12. Grossman proved to be Tech's nemesis right at the wrong time by caging the winning tally.

West went down before a landslide 22 to 9 defeat when it struck the locals. Bosley, playing his last game as captain of the quintet, was one of the stars of the avalanche. However, Richardson was the out-standing twinkler, hanging up 14 of Tech's 22 tallies.

Longwood was massacred 35 to 8 in the next round of the schedule. Douglass and Hunter played their first varsity game and capably took the places of their predecessors. West Park was next smeared by East Tech, 41 to 7. Richardson boosted his scoring total to 67.

Shaw gave Tech a scare the next week and probably took some of the conceit out of the local pill tossers. The final score was 23 to 21. Although the Technologists held a lead all the way, a Shaw rally in the last quarter almost unnerved the Techers. The score was tied once but "Chump" came to the rescue and put in the four points that copped the bacon.

The Northeastern Ohio District Tournament was the big noise following the Shaw game. East Tech was entered in Class A, drawing a bye in the first round. West was met in the second and humiliated, 25 to 19, which was quite a surprise considering the 22 to 9 defeat handed Tech in the season. Extra was taken over in the semi-finals 26 to 9. The Brown and Gold five grabbed an early lead.

East, senate champs, was encountered in the final round and East Tech missed its chance for the state finals at Columbus when the Blue and Gold won, 26 to 21.

Richardson boosted his scoring total to 88 when South was met in the John Adams' gym the next week. The final score was 36 to 13.

Home talent was shoved out of second place and took roost on the third rung when West Tech took toll in the last game of the season in the local gym, 13 to 11. The West Carpenters led the quarter, 7 to 2 and the half 9 to 3. Several times in the last half the score became 50-50 but it proved to be an unlucky day for Tech.

Basketball Seconds' History

Just like the varsity, the seconds had a fairly successful season except that they began and ended with a defeat.

In the first game Central was the lucky conqueror, 21—12. In their initial mix-up, the Yanigans were really off form.

When Glenville was met the next week, a string of five victories began that ended only when the Lakewood lightweights walloped them badly. First Glenville was beaten on the Glenville floor 14 to 9. Then West was nosed out 17 to 15. Longwood also did the same old stunt, losing 21 to 11. Afterwards John Marshall was swamped 30 to 7. In the Shaw gym, the Tech Yearlings took over the suburban lightweights 12 to 8.

And then they lost! Lakewood finished the story of five wins with a 30 to 17 licking. But the Techers took it out on South the next week at John Adams 21 to 6. The end of the season came all too soon and much too hard when West Tech won 16 to 14.

The Tech cubs outscored their opponents 158 to 123.

Soccer

Interscholastic soccer entered the local athletic limelight this season for the first time. The team was organized about the last of September, when 25 enthusiasts turned out. W. T. S. Baker, who starred on an English college team, coached the local squad. Practices were held on Wednesdays and Saturdays, at Woodland Hills.

Only two games with East and Central were on the schedule, as few of the high schools had teams.

The first game with East, was a close affair all the way through. East seemed to have the advantage in the first half, but the locals came back with a snap in the final chapter, Capt. "Norm" Johnston poking across the only goal of the game.

With Central 'twas different. The Academics started off with a rush, kicking a goal in the first few minutes. Not until the second stanza did the Carpenters penetrate the Hub defense, winning the fray by a 2-1 count.

Captain Johnston and Manager Marble were the team's mainstays throughout the season. Spenko, Budden, Gonsorcik and Hoose also did well for the mechanics.

It is hoped to put soccer on the regular list of sports next season, as this year's team was not under control of the Athletic Association. Even a senate soccer league is not impossible.

Swimming History

Better than last year. Winning one meet and losing two by scant margins, the local swim team made good on the first statement.

Captain Larkin, Bill Mitchell and "Al" Voth were the only ones back, who had heard a starter's gun when the season opened. A few good newcomers showed up, chief among those being Down, Unterberger, and Vanko.

A few others showed promise for the years to come. These were Schiring, Kagy and Telepak. Wayne Keeler was the best all-round man on the team.

The Heights finners were the first opposition provided for the locals. After a scrappy meet the Hilltop boys beat the locals by six points. The score was 37-31.

This year's interscholastic champs, Shaw, splashed all over the local navigators, the final score being 52 to 16.

Then came the Mechanics' day of joy. They defeated Glenville's mermen by a 43-25 score. Mitchell starred, taking two firsts.

University, or rather Junior House, did Shaw one better by giving the locals the lean end of the 54-14 score.

Lakewood came the last on the sked. After a tight battle, the West-Siders came out two points ahead, winning 35-33.

Much credit is due Coach "Patsy" Young and H. G. Stevens of Case, who helped the team along.

A hot one. That's what the locals' 1921 track schedule was labeled.

An indoor meet with Glenville started it off on March 21. Glenville has had fifty track outfits for the last few years, and this year's was quite as dangerous as the others. The Artisans copped that meet by one point.

Then came a three-week period of work and training for the C. A. C. meet, held on April 12 at the Public Auditorium.

'Twas a regular three-ring circus. Wrestling bouts were held on the main floor, and Sam Willaman's Ames relayers, together with those of other Middle Western colleges, ran off some snappy relays.

Lakewood, the "Blue-grass of Ohio" when it comes to track work, was met in the season's first outdoor meet, on April 19 at Lakewood.

Another Quad team, University, was met on the following pay-day.

The Lakewood relays, that combination of medleys and otherwise, came off May 3. Glenville, then, and then the Northeastern Ohio meet at Western Reserve on May 17.

The local stars then proceeded to Columbus on May 21. After they came back they entered the interscholastic meet on May 31 and June 1.

Skaters

On Saturday, February 9, the local Hans Brinkers took first place in the scholastic skating races at Rockefeller Pond, bringing the year's first cup to our trophy case.

'Twas the third time in succession that Carpenter gliders copped the ice derby. Early in 1922 the locals upset the dope and won that year's tourney from East. Last year and again this year the Artisans came out on top.

This last victory brought the goblet here for good, as the rules of the meet stated that the school that won three seasons in a row should take permanent possession of the cup. The trophy was donated by the Guardian Bank.

To get back to the event that won the cup, East, as usual, was the mechanics' chief competitor, coming within five markers of our 15. Latin was third with 8 units. Other scores were: Heights 7; South 5; Central 1.

The Woodhewers started off right by winning first place in the relay. The "Big Four" of the team, Reese, Dreman, Otto and Kothera, were the local entrants in that event.

Kothera came second in the senior boys' race. He was only beaten by Cogan of Cathedral Latin, who stood high in the Lake Placid gliders' contest.

"Reese, third; Dreman, fourth," was the scorer's nasal drawl at the end of the heat for Junior boys. Coyle of East caused plenty of anxiety, by coming in first.

Even the flats did their bit toward bringing the gonfalon to E. 55th and Scovill. Ernest Otto and Clarence Deunske finished in second and third places respectively.

In the girls' races (juniors and seniors only) Ruth Betz finished in second place. Mildred Daull took fourth position.

Girls' Tennis

The girls came into their own again this year when a movement was started near the beginning of the second semester to form a "fem" racquet squad. Contrary to the usual fate of new sports at East Tech, the girls' team gained considerable support from the very beginning. E. G. Pierce and F. R. Bemisderfer, chemistry teachers, agreed to coach the "skirts". Then practice for a spring tourney began with about 25 girls out. Practices were held every Monday in the gymnasium provided for the weaker sex.

In Memoriam

JACK TRICE

"In another year he would have been the greatest football star in America a super-man."

This was ex-Tech Coach S. S. Willaman's tribute to Jack Trice, '21, who passed away on Monday, October 8, 1923, at Ames, Iowa.

At Tech, he started at the very bottom of the ladder but through his wonderful personality and perseverance soon became a leader, a star, and the friend of everyone. After finishing his course here, the colored lad followed his coach, Sam Willaman, to Iowa State College (Ames) with Champ Hardy, and the Behm brothers Norty and Johnny.

On Saturday, October 6, Trice was crushed through his position in the Minnesota-Ames game at Minnesota. On Monday morning he was taken back to Ames where he died that afternoon.

At Ames, Trice was well-known as a social worker. Among the younger boys of the city he had organized an athletic club known as "The Jack Trice Club". The purpose of the organization was to raise the moral and physical standard of the members. He also starred in his studies, having an average near 90 in his last year at college.

Although the colored leader has passed away, he has surely set a mark that any American boy may be proud to aim at.

- Tech takes lead in senate race. Downs Lincolnites 13-0.

NOVEMBER

- 2 Coach Thellar's snow-shoe 7-0 victory over "ours truly." Raw beefsteak, do your bit.
- Officers for June class voted on. Andy Thailing wins Presidency.
- Ruth Larson, Dorothy Schoenthal and Raymond Topping will be February class speakers. O-B-H Webster.
- 10 Toledo Scott sleds over local eleven at Dunn Field. 20-0. Fans convinced that "If Winter Comes", it's here.
- 15 Design of class ring decided on by February grads.
- 20 Film Fund thermometer fails to rise. Noon movies tottering.
- 25 Parents' Day. Students become nervous wrecks from trying to convince "Ma" or "Pa" how utterly foolish it is to talk with this or that teacher.
- 28 June Bug agitation starts. Big enthusiasm.
- 29 East High brings zero end of a 14-0 score up to 18 in the second half. Oh death—!
- 26 Palladium girls give "Modern Poetry" 'Aud' for Turkey Day program. Is the "Hot Mince Pie" selection a grim prophecy?

DECEMBER

- 6 All high cheer leaders organize. Ann Ruch of Glenville, head.
- 7 February class attends Yuletide Frolic. Lura Lambert and Elsie Goss "Jazz."
- 8 Marsh, Stryker, Surina and Harvanian cavort on All Senate grid team against Lane Tech. Lose 7-0. (We get the stadium "jus' a" same.)
- Star Banqueters condescend to partake of sordid earthly grub. Jack Raper "cracks wise."

JUNE BUG

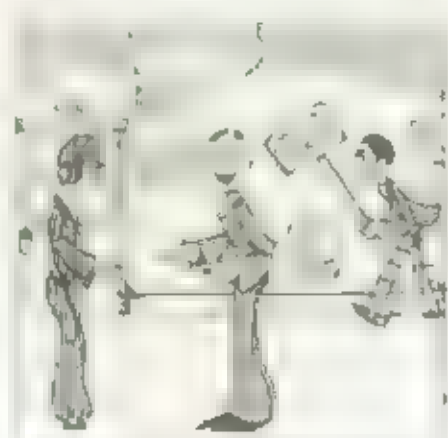

- 11 "June Bug" subscriptions start. Enthusiasm 10 below.
- 15 Grid feast. Ex-coach Willaman attends. Chuck Hartman will be 1924 pigskin pilot.
- 20 Girls' Rifle Club holds first practice at Grays' Armory! None dead yet
- 25 Santa Claus comes. P. S. Maybe.

JANUARY

- 1 Students flip over clean page
- 3 First thirteen blots.
- 11 Tech debaters stage primary argument. Cage season opens. Wallop Central, 24-0.
- 12 All senior romp. Kiddie cars betray natural inclinations of sterner sex.
- 24 Charles Nocar and Elmer Brown get Scarabaeon awards, cup and cash respectively. First Dime Concert. War hoops and Injun lingo. Scalps still properly located.
- 25 Class night play, "Spreading the News." Girls well adapted to parts. Company A wins loving cup. Good stuff, Toth.
- 31 Leap Year Party for Student Council. "Daddy" Durstine impersonates leap year hubby. Our poor sides.
- 31 119 sheepskins awarded. Au Revoir.

FEBRUARY

- 1 The old boat noses out to sea with a cargo of 2778
- 7 Student Council political campaign uncorked. Hang onto your hats.
- 15 Walter Creasap re-cops presidency.
- 16 Principal H. A. Bathrick suggests name plates at senior meeting.
- 21 Washington's Birthday. H. A. Van Kirk's public speaking classes in charge of 'Aud.'
- 29 Negative loses argument to East. Affirmative wins unanimous decision over Glenville.

MARCH

- 5 Ten copper musical -3:15.
- 6 Forensic talent vie with Youngstown South. Win 3-0 decision in both cases. 'That's chokin' 'em!
- 13 Name plate plan carried.

Editor's Note

As it is impossible to include in the Annual Board all those who have assisted in the work, our editorial conscience would prick us if we could not mention the names of those who have aided in various ways.

Therefore the Annual staff lists below the names of those who have given of their time and effort toward the production of this book and takes this opportunity to extend to them their thanks and appreciation:

Serene Templeton for her aid on the cover design;

Anthony Klobucar and Harry Unterberger for the cartooning;

Gertrude Wilkes, assistant typist;

Ina Huge, typing;

Annie Laurie Kingzett for her willing assistance in every way;

Arthur Thieman for aiding the advertising manager;

Charles Taylor and Fred Garbler for their help in the business end;

Erwin Gloor for his aid in the Sports department, and Thomas Dawson for his contribution of jokes.

To those whose names follow the editor and business manager especially extend their thanks for bringing in advertisements:

Wah Lee

Elmer Horne

Margaret Hawkins

J. C. Leland Brown

Annie Laurie Kingzett

Jokes

*We've dug and toiled. The June Bug's out.
Oh, sweat, drop from our brow!
A trembling grabs at our insides
Ye gods! We'll get it now.*

*This one sweeps with an irate glare.
"Never said that," raves she.
Another scoffs,—he heard that one
On toothless grandpa's knee.*

*Now jokes, some people may amuse
But us — we want no more:
If you say jokes to us, well—here's
Your hat and there's the door.*

Miss Hyde—You know that boy's such a studious sort of person.

Miss Grant—But I thought you said he was always so behind in his studies.

Miss Hyde—Well,—but you see that gives him such a fine chance to pursue them.

Smiley—Now, if the Atlantic ocean was stopped by a dam an—

Tired voice—There's that dam problem again.

E. S. Kern—What vegetable would you use to cut down the meat bill?

C. Taylor—Peanuts.

—————

She—While you are away, promise to keep my picture with you (sob), and to think of me every day.

C. McQuoid—You know I will.

She—And always love me, (gulp), and never go around with wild girls.

Mac—I promise, Mother.

Self-Consciousness

*The centipede was happy, quite,
Until the toad in fun
Said, "Which foot follows after which?"
This roused her mind to such a pitch
She lay distracted in a ditch
Considering, how to run.*

International Motor Trucks for Low Cost Hauling - - -

A complete line of dependable Motor Trucks. Sizes from 2,000 to 10,000 pounds. Free inspection service goes with every truck.

To thousands of motor truck owners, the name "International" stands for the most efficient, dependable and exacting after-sale service that could be desired. For the organization or individual with money invested in motor trucks, a profitable return is secured only by that equipment delivering the most ton-miles at the lowest possible cost. This requires motor trucks which are built right and motor trucks which are kept right by an after-sale service which can be rendered only by such an organization as works for and with the International owner.

Factory-trained road engineers make thorough inspections of International motor trucks at regular intervals throughout the year and written reports are sent to the owner. Minor adjustments are made, preventing excessive wear before it becomes necessary to replace a part, and drivers are instructed in the care and maintenance of their trucks. International Free Inspection Service reduces operating costs, keeps equipment on the job and adds to the life of the truck. It is free; it is maintained for the life of the truck and it is one of the many reasons why International motor trucks are profitable to own.

The Apex Electric Suction Cleaner will not do the slightest injury to the most delicate nap of any carpet or rug. Its powerful suction extends uniformly across its 13 inch nozzle. It removes every grain of dust and dirt, picks up all hair, thread, lint and litter. With the attachments it will clean upholstery, draperies, clothing, etc.

Apex ELECTRIC SUCTION CLEANER

Here is another interesting point. This famous cleaner has been reduced in price from $57.50 to $47.50. In addition to this we are making through our agents a remarkable trade in offer. Any of our authorized dealers will accept your old cleaner, no matter how old or what its condition is, the same as $10.00 cash in part payment for a brand new, 1924 Apex.
